Relationship advice isn't one-size-fits-all, so it helps to get a range of opinions. And while we're huge fans of credentialed sex and relationship experts, sometimes you just need some real talk from women who've been there. That's why we've decided to draw from Refinery29's library of personal stories to glean some real-world advice. These are people who've been through specific romantic challenges and have come out of them wiser — and are happy to spread their newfound wisdom. Several of them discovered unique ways to weather a breakup. Others found joy in adding a third person to their long-term relationship. And a few realized the bliss of opting not to Instagram stalk prospective dates. Whatever the story, their credentials come from blood-sweat-and-tears experience. We've rounded up some of our favorite pieces of relationship advice from our arsenal of real-life experts. Click through for tips that will (with any luck) help you get through some common relationship challenges. And don't forget to check back, since we'll be adding new lessons regularly. Thanksgiving celebrations make for great memories. It's not just the food; the atmosphere of warmth, fun, and humor adds to the festivity and contributes to the family legacy. Grandparents have anecdotes to share about their Thanksgiving holidays, and you can create a trove of memories to pass on to the next generation and create a tradition around values such as love, sharing, generosity, and fun. One such tradition could be to make Thanksgiving a day of laughter. Encourage your guests to share funny anecdotes, jokes, and quotes after dinner. These funny Thanksgiving quotes are great for a side dish of humor: Alice B. Toklas: American writer "What is sauce for the goose may be sauce for the gander but is not necessarily sauce for the chicken, the duck, the turkey, or the guinea hen." George Carlin: American comedian "We're having something a little different this year for Thanksgiving. Instead of a turkey, we're having a swan. You get more stuffing." Mitch Hedberg: American comedian "If you stand in the meat section at the grocery store long enough, you start to get mad at turkeys. There's turkey ham, turkey bologna, turkey pastrami. Someone needs to tell the turkey, 'Man, just be yourself.'" Ambrose Bierce: American writer, journalist ("The Devil's Dictionary") "Turkey: A large bird whose flesh, when eaten on certain religious anniversaries, has the peculiar property of attesting piety and gratitude." Ellen Orleane: American author "I have strong doubts that the first Thanksgiving even remotely resembled the 'history' I was told in second grade. But considering that (when it comes to holidays) mainstream America's traditions tend to be overeating, shopping, or getting drunk, I suppose it's a miracle that the concept of giving thanks even surfaces at all." Kin Hubbard: American cartoonist, journalist "A lot of Thanksgiving days have been ruined by not carving the turkey in the kitchen." Erma Bombeck: American humorist, columnist ("No One Diets on Thanksgiving") "What we're really talking about is a wonderful day set aside on the fourth Thursday of November when no one diets. I mean, why else would they call it Thanksgiving?" Cornelius Plantinga Jr.: American theologian "It must be an odd feeling to be thankful to nobody in particular. Christians in public institutions often see this odd thing happening on Thanksgiving Day. Everyone in the institution seems to be thankful 'in general.' It's very strange. It's a little like being married in general." Alton Brown: TV personality, author "That's the ultimate goal of most turkey recipes: to create a great skin and stuffing to hide the fact that turkey meat, in its cooked state, is dry and flavorless. Does it have to be that way? No. We just have to focus on what the turkey is and what the turkey needs." Ted Nugent: American rock musician "If you want to save a species, simply decide to eat it. Then it will be managed—like chickens, like turkeys, like deer, like Canada geese." Russell Baker: American humor columnist "It was dramatic to watch my grandmother decapitate a turkey with an ax the day before Thanksgiving. Nowadays the expense of hiring grandmothers for the ax work would probably qualify all turkeys so honored with 'gourmet' status." Jim Davis: American cartoonist "Vegetables are a must on a diet. I suggest carrot cake, zucchini bread, and pumpkin pie." Jon Stewart: American comedian, commentator "I celebrated Thanksgiving in an old-fashioned way. I invited everyone in my neighborhood to my house, we had an enormous feast, and then I killed them and took their land." Johnny Carson: American comedian, talk show host "Thanksgiving is an emotional holiday. People travel thousands of miles to be with people they only see once a year. And then discover once a year is way too often." Anonymous "May your stuffing be tasty May your turkey be plump, May your potatoes and gravy have nary a lump. May your yams be delicious And your pies take the prize. And may your Thanksgiving dinner stay off your thighs!" True love is selfless and unconditional. True love knows no boundaries. It is not judgmental but highly accommodating. Unconditional love only gives but does not take anything in return. The love of a mother is unconditional. A dog loves its master unconditionally. An infant has unconditional love for its mother. You will see that naive love is unconditional. It is tender, caring, and nurturing. The Bible says that Jesus loved his disciples unconditionally. Forgiveness is an intrinsic part of unconditional love. When you love someone deeply, you find the heart to forgive. You can overlook the blemishes because your love overcomes the flaws. Martin Luther King Jr. beautifully put it in words when he said, "He who is devoid of the power to forgive, is devoid of the power to love." Unconditional love never imposes, never tries to change the other person. Writer Thomas Merton said, "The beginning of love is to let those we love be perfectly themselves, and not to twist them to fit our own image. Otherwise we love only the reflection of ourselves we find in them." Robert Wagner: A dog will teach you unconditional love. If you can have that in your life, things won't be too bad. C. JoyBell C.: It should be a privilege to be able to say I love you to someone. It shouldn't be something people say just because they feel like it. A privilege that is earned. They say you have to earn the right to be loved; no, love is unconditional, if you love someone, they don't have to earn it. But, the right to tell someone that you love them? That has to be earned. You have to earn the right to be believed. Mitch Albom, For One More Day: When you look into your mother's eyes, you know that is the purest love you can find on this earth. John Perry Barlow: But groundless hope, like unconditional love, is the only kind worth having. Markus Zusak, The Book Thief: No matter how many times she was told that she was loved, there was no recognition that the proof was in the abandonment. Ann Brashares: Parents were the only ones obligated to love you; from the rest of the world you had to earn it. Isabel Allende: Accept the children the way we accept trees—with gratitude, because they are a blessing—but do not have expectations or desires. You don't expect trees to change, you love them as they are. Leo Buscaglia: Only when we give joyfully, without hesitation or thought of gain, can we truly know what love means. Deb Caletti, The Secret Life of Prince Charming: Unconditional love is like a country of two with no laws and no government. Which is all fine if everyone is peaceful and law abiding. In the wrong hands, though, you got looting and crime sprees, and let me tell you, the people who demand unconditional love are usually the ones who will rob and pillage and then blame you because you left your door unlocked. Nicholas Sparks, The Wedding: What it's like to be a parent: It's one of the hardest things you'll ever do but in exchange it teaches you the meaning of unconditional love. Humor and love make a brilliant combination. That is why Hollywood movie factories produce so many romantic comedies. When in love, indulge in fun to keep your relationship alive and kicking. Enjoy the lighter side of love with these funny quotes about love. Arnold Schwarzenegger "I have a love interest in every one of my films — a gun." Lily Tomlin "If love is the answer, could you please rephrase the question?" Frank Howard Clark "A baby is born with a need to be loved — and never outgrows it." Bil Keane "A hug is like a boomerang — you get it back right away." Ingrid Bergman "A kiss is a lovely trick designed by nature to stop speech when words become superfluous." Albert Einstein "Gravitation is not responsible for people falling in love." Helen Rowland "To be happy with a man you must understand him a lot and love him a little. To be happy with a woman you must love her a lot and not try to understand her at all." Henry Kissinger "Nobody will ever win the battle of the sexes. There's too much fraternizing with the enemy." Joan Crawford "Love is a fire. But whether it is going to warm your heart or burn down your house, you can never tell." Joan Rivers "It's been so long since I made love, I can't even remember who gets tied up." La Rochefoucauld "True love is like seeing ghosts; we all talk about it, but few of us have ever seen one." Louis Jordan "The only people who make love all the time are liars." Michael Leunig "Love one another and you will be happy. It's as simple and as difficult as that." Johann Wolfgang von Goethe "If I love you, what business is it of yours?" Bill Balance "When a man is in love or in debt, someone else has the advantage."
